5. At work

The safety rules of the company where you work will be shared with you in advance. Read this carefully before you start. These may be placed under "My Documents", and you will need to sign them so that we know you have read them. We recommend that you wear class S3 safety boots while at work. If you don't own these S3 safety boots, GOODMORNING will provide them to you free of charge. When you are not at work, you have to be reachable by phone for GOODMORNING between 06:00 and 10:00 and between 17:00 and 20:00 every day, so that your intermediary or Support coordinator can contact you if necessary. ### 8.2 Holiday procedure

You accrue statutory leave (holiday hours) on a weekly basis and you can see on your pay slip how many hours of statutory leave you have. If you are not available to work and you have not worked 38 hours, you must take statutory leave (holiday hours). You can request vacation time via the Plan4Flex APP under My absences.

The agreement remains that you must request a vacation at least 2 weeks in advance. Try to keep this in mind. If you would like to reserve your room, you must do so via the APP correspondence under message type Planning.

What if you don't comply with these rules?

You will leave without consent, and we will impose a sanction according to Article 6 of the ABU Collective Labor Agreement.

You can indicate via the APP correspondence that you wish to terminate your employment. An ODV document will then be prepared for you in the Plan4Flex APP. Here you can indicate on which date in the future you want to terminate the contract. After signing, we will communicate this internally.

10. Cars

10.1 Driving your own car in the Netherlands

Handbook Temporary Workers

2026-01

If you come to the Netherlands from your home country in your own vehicle, you must report this to the recruitment office in advance. The various residential facilities of GOODMORNING Facility BV only have a limited number of parking spaces available. Parking in the residential areas surrounding these locations is not permitted. GOODMORNING wants to avoid any inconvenience to the immediate surroundings as much as possible, but you also run the risk of a parking fine and/or having your car towed. GOODMORNING shall not be liable for damages to vehicles parked on its premises or in the vicinity of its properties. In certain cases, you will have to pay road tax in the Netherlands and insure the car in the Netherlands. Furthermore, you may have to pay private motor vehicle and motorcycle tax. This is your own responsibility.

10.2 Transport Goodmorning

If you live in an accommodation form LPC Facility, we will also take care of your commute. What kind of transport is provided depends on the commute distance.

At Goodmorning there are fixed rules regarding the type of transport for the distance between home and work

Distance between home and work	Transport
0-10 km	Bike
more then 10 km	Car

Of course, you are not obliged to use the transport provided by GOODMORNING.

If you rent a bike from Goodmorning for cycling to work. The rent is €0.00. The employee who rents the bike is fully responsible for the item. If there is damage or parts need to be replaced upon return, the costs will be charged. A deposit is due for the bicycle. The deposit is €100,- for a city bike, €150,- for a bike with gears. The deposit will not be collected but will only be used afterwards if there are costs for replacing parts when returning the bike. The renter can drive and use the bike privately. It is up to GOODMORNING to add and pay an amount as a private addition for the bikes. It is prohibited to make the bike available to third parties. Traffic fines are settled with the renter's salary. The renter is responsible for paying the traffic fine.

If you travel by car and the client does not have a travel expenses scheme, EUR 3 per day will be withheld for transport costs with a maximum of EUR 15 per week. Are you the driver of the car? Then you will not be charged any transport costs.

10.3 Driver Goodmorning

If you have indicated to one of our recruitment offices that you are in possession of a valid driving license and wish to use transport through GOODMORNING, you are considered a potential driver from that moment on. If you refuse to drive, please let Goodmorning or your recruiter know about this, before you travel to the Netherlands.

After signing the contract, you will be responsible for the car you take delivery of. When you are assigned a car, other colleagues will often ride along with you. You will be asked to pick up any passengers from a single assembly point. Traffic fines up to €100 are deducted from the driver's salary. Fines exceeding €100 are collected via a payment request. The driver is responsible for paying the fine.

10.3.1 Fuel card

As a driver, you will be given a fuel card. With this fuel card, you can fill up a limited amount of fuel each week at an unmanned petrol station. Refueling along the motorway is therefore NOT possible. In each car, there are comprehensive instructions on how to use the fuel card.

10.3.2 Private use of allocated car

Any unexpected travel or detours due to work-related circumstances (e.g. roadworks, accidents etc.) should be reported to the Support coordinator on a weekly basis. There is a deductible for damages of €150.00.

It is permitted to drive up to 9 kilometers per week in the allocated car for private purposes. For each additional kilometer driven above this limit, you will be charged EUR 0.50 per km, which will be withheld from your net salary. The distance travelled is monitored by a so-called black box, which is fitted in all cars as standard. The black box also allows us to monitor your driving behavior.

If you drive more than 9 kilometers per week we have to deducted tax (Bijtelling auto). You will pay tax on 25% of the purchase value of the car. We call this car addition. For example, on the pay slip you will see an amount of €71.85 in the 2nd column. You only pay tax on this amount. If you drive privately less than 9 km per week on average during the calendar year, the car addition will be corrected after the end of the calendar year.

11. Health Care

11.1 Health insurance

Everyone who works or lives in the Netherlands is required to have a health insurance. This also applies to you. Basic health insurance covers the costs of GP visits, specialist visits, prescribed medication and hospitalization. When you opt for the health insurance arranged by GOODMORNING, you are insured for death and repatriation (transport of the deceased to the home country).

You have two options:

1. Take out private health insurance and provide proof to us;
2. Zorg en Zekerheid. The premium in 2026 is € 38,02 per week, and you will have no excess. The premium will be deducted from your net salary every week. This premium also covers the (statutory) excess.

GOODMORNING will take care of signing you up and out for healthcare insurance and will take care of payments. In the Netherlands, you are obliged to be insured for healthcare as soon as you have a so-called 'wage component', which means that the health insurance premium will not only be deducted if you actually live and work in the Netherlands, but also when you are on holiday and receive paid leave and/or holiday pay.

11.2 Healthcare benefit

Healthcare allowance is compensation for healthcare costs if you do not have a high income. The conditions and amount of healthcare allowance are determined annually by the government. The Healthcare Allowance is paid in arrears, once per quarter. You must have active health insurance on the first day of each month. For example, the Healthcare Allowance for January, February, and March is paid in the third week of May. You can apply for healthcare allowance via Goodmorning applications. Through the APP correspondence you can receive information about the conditions and request an authorization in which we will apply for the Healthcare Allowance for you.

11.3 General practitioner care in the Netherlands

In the Netherlands there is a shortage of GPs, which means that the practices are full. It's difficult to find an available doctor. There are also digital solutions where you can only consult a GP online.

This can be done by email: vertrouwenscommissie@goodmorning.eu The confidential counselor acts as a sounding board for employees and provides them with support and advice. The confidential counselor is there to help resolve complaints and offers a listening ear. She also advises whether or not the complaint should be filed or whether a discussion should take place with the perpetrator to resolve the problem.
